

KING ILL, RELIEVED OF POST

Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

WE Americans still have a lot to learn about the fine art of government. Dedicating a memorial Sunday to the late President Theodore Roosevelt, Mayor LaGuardia of New York City praised the fighting colonel of the Rough Riders because when the fate of the Panama Canal hung in the balance he "consulted the engineers and not the constitutional lawyers."

State Dispensary Plan Tried, Failed Says Timberlake

Asserts South Carolina Experiment in 1893 Turned Out Badly

NOT PRESENT ISSUE

Question Is "Legalized Liquor or Prohibition" He Asserts

Editor The Star: Shall we have legalized liquor or prohibition? This is the question before the people of Hempstead county, and not temperance.

Nearly all good citizens claim they are for temperance. Some say the best way to curb the liquor habit is to legalize its sale. While others claim the only way is to prohibit it by law. We have tried all plans and prohibition is the only one that had any measure of success. Our editor and Mr. Rockefeller claim they have a plan (State Dispensary) that has never been tried and will work. This like other statements our editor has made is not sustained by facts nor history.

South Carolina in 1893
The dispensary system under which the government is the only dealer or saloon keeper, originated in the state of South Carolina. The law was very strict. No liquor might be consumed within the dispensaries which were allowed to run only from sunrise to sunset. All liquor sold had to be certified by state chemists for its purity; no chairs were permitted in dispensaries and loitering in them was forbidden. Minors were not allowed to buy nor to sell, nor even to enter dispensaries. All dispensers on bar-keepers were appointed by the state and all private profits removed. This law was passed in 1893.

Political corruption the increase of drunkenness and other evils that go with the liquor traffic soon reached new and unbearable levels. It was then that an aroused people voted this system out, and prohibition in by nearly three to one.

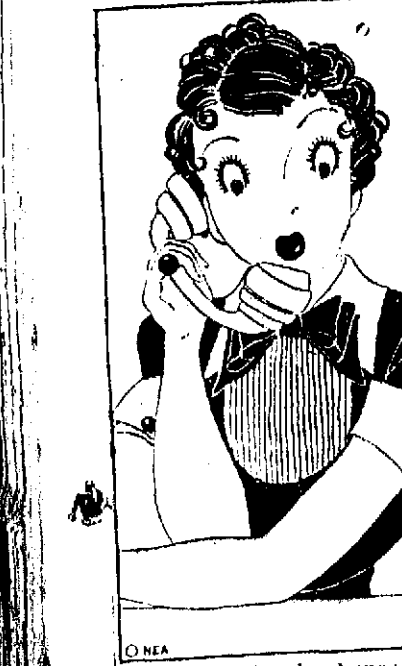

The prevalence of the drink habit has been a problem thousands of years. Prophets, philosophers, moralists, economists, philanthropists, law-makers, have wrestled with its ravages in all civilized lands—yet it persists. The black curse of it flows on from generation to generation. Why this endless fight against a persistent habit? Why prohibition? Because the experience of mankind condemns it. It has been counted a curse by the saints, sages and prophets of the human race. It is destructive of life and prosperity, peace and order. A glance at the front page of any newspaper will demonstrate this. It is a handicap to success.

The Business World
The smell of liquor on the breath will close many a door of opportunity to boys and girls. If any employer had a choice between two young men, one a teetotaler, which do you think he would choose?

If a father, rich or poor, had two sons one of whom drank and one of whom was sober, which do you think he would prefer?

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

Pulaski Is Barred in Using Surplus to Pay Old Debt

Can Not Use Present Funds to Pay Off Old Contractual Claims

NO SURPRISE HERE

Hempstead's $5,000 Deficit, However, Mostly Statutory Claims

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court held Monday that contracts made by counties in excess of revenue for the fiscal year in which they were made, are void and "if void when made, can not thereafter be paid."

The court's ruling outlaws more than $36,000 in claims which Pulaski county entered into in 1931 and 1932, and affirmed a Pulaski chancery court ruling granting an injunction to John D. Shackelford to restrain County Judge Cook from paying claims from the surplus in the general revenue fund.

Of No Effect Here

Monday's supreme court decision is not believed to effect Hempstead's financial situation, where between $4,500 and $5,000 claims were reported "outlawed" the first of the year.

Contractual claims in this county were conceded to be lost, but there was, and still is, uncertainty over the fate of statutory claims—and the bulk of Hempstead's debt is statutory, which comes ahead of contractual claims.

Negroes Lose Appeal

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Bubble Clayton and Jim Carruthers, negroes, lost their fight in the state courts Monday against the death penalty assessed upon them in Mississippi county more than a year ago for a criminal assault upon a young white woman.

The Arkansas Supreme Court denied their rehearing petition, leaving only the federal circuit court of the United States Supreme Court open for further action in the case.

Louisiana Defies U. S. Intervention

Threats Heard on Both Sides on Eve of Tuesday's Primary Vote

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP)—Governor C. K. Allen Sunday defied the federal government to send agents into the state for Tuesday's Democratic primary election and told commissioners they could "kick President Roosevelt out if you want to."

As the battle for the political empire of the late Senator Huey P. Long neared a climax, Governor Allen said at a political rally at Opelousas that "no federal agent can have anything to do with the primary."

"They are not going to have commissioners at the polls to vote these poor relief workers like cattle. You can kick them (federal agents) out of the parish (county) if you want to. You can kick President Roosevelt out of the parish if you want to."

A congressional committee, appointed before Long's death during the period in which the Louisiana senator was waging a bitter fight against President Roosevelt, is now investigating Louisiana's election machinery.

Anti-Long candidates have warned that federal soldiers may be brought into the state to prevent the election from being "stolen," while Governor Allen has threatened to call out the national guard to preserve peace and insure a "fair" primary.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The supreme court entered upon a two weeks' recess Monday without handing down the much-awaited decision on the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA). Disappointing a distinguished group which had gathered in the expectation that this last New Deal case ready for action would be ruled on, the court spoke its mind on several lesser cases in an 11-minute session and then adjourned.

County Thaws Out After Snow Storm

Mercury Drops to 18 Sunday, 19 Monday—15 Dead Throughout Nation

CHICAGO.—(AP)—Tornadoes swept three southwestern states while blizzards lashed the northern tier of states from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic coast as the nation Monday counted at least 115 dead, of which 58 were traffic accidents attributed more or less to storm conditions.

County Thaws Out

Hempstead county was thawing out rapidly Monday from a snow storm that struck this area Saturday and continued through most of the night. It was the second blanket of white this season.

The mercury in the official thermometer at the Fruit and Truck Branch Experiment station dropped to a minimum of 18 Sunday morning. The lowest reading Monday was 19.

A bright sun melted the biggest portion of snow and ice Sunday and the balance was rapidly disappearing Monday with rising temperatures.

17 Dead in Storm

CHIPLEY, Fla.—(AP)—A week-end toll of 17 deaths was caused by a series of tornadoes which struck three Southern states, causing extensive property damage and injuring many rural residents.

Simultaneously with the arrival of bitter cold, the tornado wind slipped first into North Alabama killing four persons Saturday and shifted to the southeast causing 13 deaths in the vicinity of Georgia-Alabama-Florida state lines Saturday night.

A family of six was wiped out by the terrific winds which hit Northern Florida near here, two were killed in near-by Alabama and five lives were taken in Southwest Georgia.

After skipping from the extreme northern part of Alabama to the extreme southern part, the winds cut a wide path near here and passed on into Georgia, where the victims included five negroes whose tenant homes were blown away.

The dead in the storm near here were Dan Dykes, 25, farmer.

President Roosevelt Speaks in Memory of His Distant Cousin

NEW YORK.—(AP)—New York state's memorial to Theodore Roosevelt was dedicated Sunday with ceremonies in which President Roosevelt and other speakers took their texts from the words of the "Rough Rider" president.

The president, a distant cousin of the "R. R." for his "passion of righteousness" and "sense of justice," then, in a reference interpreted by some as evidence that he was thinking of the soldiers' bonus bill now pending before the senate, the president quoted a Fourth of July speech in which his predecessor had said: "A man who is good enough to shed his blood for his country is good enough to be paid."

Southwestern Bell to Be Given Hearing on City of Hope's Order

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The Southwestern Bell Telephone company filed an appeal with the State Department of Public Utilities Monday from the action of the Hope city council in passing an ordinance directing the reduction of telephone rates in that city.

The company asked the department to suspend the proposed rates and leave existing schedules in effect pending an investigation and hearing on the case.

Officials of the company contended that the Hope plant, even under the old rates, had not shown a profit for several years.

Chairman P. A. Lasley said a hearing on the appeal would be held before the commission within the next two weeks.

Council Assumes Power

SANDRINGHAM, Eng.—(Copyright Associated Press)—King George the Fifth, propped up in bed, signed a document Monday setting up a council of state to assume most of the royal duties during his majesty's grave illness.

The sovereign's privy council, summoned from London, met in an apartment adjoining the sick room and appointed members of the council of state while the 70-year-old king entered possibly the decisive stage of his sickness.

Ethiopia Calls for Help

GENEVA, Switzerland.—(AP)—Ethiopia, in a long communication to Geneva late Monday, demanded more positive aid from the League of Nations in its war with Italy.

Officials, after a hurried examination of the note, said it did not request military sanctions against Italy, but did insist upon stronger sanctions to hasten the end of the conflict.

LONDON.—(AP)—Within the shadow of the pyramids, reliable sources predicted "Sunday night's Great Britain" concentrated her most powerful army since the World war.

The disclosure came as the empire's new foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, left for Geneva to face a critical League of Nations Council session Monday.

The Egyptian area, informed persons said, now holds nearly half the British regular combat army of 10,000 troops. They are supported, recent reports indicate, by 157 warships and between 700 and 800 military planes.

This is the greatest naval and air force the nation has ever massed along its eastern empire route to India and Australia.

The British forces are almost entirely concentrated along the Libyan border. It was reported a million sandbags had been sent to the frontier for breastworks.

With the troops living under virtual wartime conditions, the area was said to be closed to civilians. Egyptian troops, whom the British consider expendable, have been withdrawn from the frontier as a precaution against incidents.

The British transports taking reinforcements to Egypt do not dock at Alexandria, but send the troops ashore in tenders in small parties. Trains then take them immediately to the border area.

Premier Mussolini of Italy was known to have been 60,000 and 80,000 troops in her colony at Libya; and joining Egypt.

It is against these troops that Great Britain has coupled military preparedness with her political efforts at Geneva.

McGuin had been athletic director at Vanderbilt for more than two decades and served as head coach for 31 years, beginning in the fall of 1904 and continuing through the season of 1934, when he was succeeded by one of his greatest grid pupils, Ray Morrison.

He came to Vanderbilt from the University of Michigan, where he was a guard on the famous "point-a-minute" Wolverine eleven of 1901.

He was graduated from the Michigan Law School, and after taking the Vanderbilt coaching job, combined his law career and football for the next 30 years. He brought Southern football into the Eastern limelight with sensational successes in intercollegiate football.

McGuin attended Drake University before going to Michigan, working his way partially through both schools. He was born on an Iowa farm, July 20, 1879, near the town of Tingley.

whom was an abstainer, which one would give him most anxiety? Drink creates and feeds the appetite for alcohol till it becomes like a hungry tiger, raging at the scent of blood.

"I can drink or I can let it alone," says the man who does not let it alone. Is it not wise to let it alone while you can? It blunts the sensibilities and weakens the resistance that guard against the harmful and the vulgar. This is so evident that it is often a plea for clemency or mercy.

The vulgarities and indecencies perpetrated in society in its cups are such that the same people blush to recall when sober. Law or Liberty is the false alternative of the drinker and his ally. A more proper way of putting it would be Liberty and Law; for law for one means liberty for another. Those who make the plea for personal liberty to do as they will forget the rights of others to life, liberty and unhindered pursuit of happiness.

The uncontrolled liberty to drink means the uncontrolled liberty to make and sell. That means as proven by bitter experience through the centuries that others are thereby robbed of the inalienable right to food, shelter, protection, property and domestic happiness.

Curse of Liquor
It is said "Let drink alone and it will let you alone." Nothing could be farther from the truth. It is the vast majority who do not drink that suffer its dire consequences. It does not let the wife alone through sleepless nights and toilsome days nor the hungry and naked children. It did not let the child alone who was run down by a drunken driver, nor the wife who was shot by a drink-crazed husband, nor the father who was financially ruined by a drinking son. It is for the protection of this vast majority against the bibulous inconsiderate and reckless minority that will marshal public opinion to demand prohibition.

Liquor prohibition can be enforced, with the same success that all other prohibition laws are enforced. Are we going to turn our government over to

THE U.S.S. HENDERSON—NAVY TRANSPORT.

LAST of the first flight, China Clipper covers to be returned to collectors are on their way back from Guam on the navy transport, U. S. S. Henderson. The ship is due at San Francisco Jan. 25. It carries covers sent to Guam from San Francisco, Hawaii, and Manila.

The reason so few covers caught the China Clipper at Manila on its return flight was that Saturday, Nov. 30, when the Clipper arrived, was Bonifacio Day, a national holiday, while the mail closed on Sunday at noon. Since the Clipper left early the next morning, Dec. 2, there was little or no time to add the stamps and cancel the mail destined for this return.

With Wisconsin Tercentenary stamps withdrawn from sale at the U. S. Philatelic Agency in Washington, the next to go may be the Mother's Day issue.

The 26-cent China Clipper stamp may be short-lived, since it is reported that the Postoffice Department is considering changing the trans-Pacific rates to 24 cents, 48 cents, and 96 cents, and issuing stamps accordingly.

Bonus Bond Bill Is Passed by Senate

Leaders Predict It Will Override Veto—Measure Sent to House

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The senate late Monday passed the coalition bill to pay the soldiers bonus in cashable "baby bonds."

The measure, which administration leaders predicted finally would become law despite a presidential veto, now goes to the house.

The senate vote was 74 to 16.

Last Obstacle Cleared
WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The last major obstacle to passage of the bond payment bonus bill was cleared away Monday with the senate's rejection of the King amendment to provide for payment of only the present surrender value of the adjusted service certificates.

The amendment, Senator King, Democrat, said, would cost the government more than a billion dollars less than the coalition bill's estimated ultimate cost of 2 billion 491 million dollars.

King was the only senator voting for the substitute.

Although approximately 12,000 permit permits were issued in the United States last year, only one-eighth of these qualified for pilot licenses. Consideration is being given to the inspection of minor traffic fines, by Dallas, Texas, authorities, on the condition that the offending motorists attend a series of eight lectures on proper vehicle operation.

Here's one cigarette that writes its own advertising..

It's like this—

You see I'm reading a Chesterfield advertisement and I'm smoking a Chesterfield cigarette, and all of you are smoking Chesterfields.

Now listen—Chesterfields are mild (not strong, not harsh). That's true isn't it?

Then you read "and yet they satisfy, please your taste, give you what you want in a cigarette." That says it, doesn't it?

Wait a minute—

It says now that Chesterfields have plenty of aroma and flavor. One of you go out of the room and come back. That will tell you how pleasing the aroma is.
